CHAPTER 12 MEDIATION

12.001 MATTERS SUBJECT TO MEDIATION

(1) Mandatory Mediation:

Any matter described in ORS 107.765 and any other proceeding where child custody or a parenting plan is in issue, unless otherwise exempted by law, shall be subject to mandatory mediation. The Court will not consider any contested parenting plan issues in a proceeding that results in a final judgment or order unless it is notified by a mediator that the matter has proceeded through mediation in accordance with these rules. Requests for prejudgment custody and parenting plan orders under ORS 107.095 are not subject to mandatory mediation, but mediation will be ordered on the joint request of the parties.

(2) Exclusion From Mediation:

The Court may exclude a case from mandatory mediation for good cause shown after hearing on the motion of a party with service on the opposing party. Cases involving domestic violence will be subject to adopted domestic violence protocols. Until such protocols are adopted, such cases are exempt from mediation.

(3) Other Matters:

A mediator may consider issues of property division or spousal or child support in connection with the mediation of a dispute concerning parenting plan issues with the written approval of both parties or their counsel, and with the consent of the mediator.

12.002 CONTROL AGREEMENTS

A domestic relations case filed in the Circuit Court remains subject to the control of that Court during mediation. The Court which refers a case to mediation may set in its referral order the limits of the mediator's scope of authority in the case. Any agreements of the parties reached as a result of mediation for which Court enforcement may be sought must be presented to the Court, and the Court shall retain final authority to accept, modify or reject the agreement. In order to preserve and promote the integrity of mediation as a dispute resolution technique, the Court shall consider and may include all reasonable agreements reached by the parties in formulating its order in the case.

12.003 MEDIATION PROCESS

(1) Commencement of Mediation by Stipulated Request For Mediation:

If there is a disagreement between the parents concerning parenting plan issues at any stage of a domestic relations proceeding, both parents or their attorneys may sign and file with the Court a stipulated request for mediation. A mediator will be available to the parents in accordance with these rules or the parents may agree and stipulate to an independent mediator in their stipulated request for mediation. If the parties choose an independent mediator, the costs for the mediator will be borne by the parties pursuant to their agreement, or, if they cannot agree, jointly.

- (2) Commencement of Mediation by Request For Mediation by One Parent:
If there is a disagreement between the parents concerning parenting plan issues at any stage of a domestic relations proceeding, either parent seeking to resolve the matter shall file with the Court and serve upon the other parent or his or her attorney a request for mediation.
- (3) Commencement of Mediation When Respondent Notifies Court:
Whenever a respondent appears in a domestic relations suit by filing a response or answer or by filing a request for prejudgment relief or a response to a request for prejudgment relief, the respondent also shall state whether parenting plan issues are or are not involved in the case. If the respondent reports that parenting plan issues are involved, the Court shall refer the matter to mediation.
- (4) Referral by Court to Mediation:
When the parties have not requested mediation but it appears that parenting plan issues are part of a proceeding that will result in a final judgment or order, the Court shall refer the matter to mediation. In a proceeding that will result in a temporary order, the Court will refer the matter to mediation at the request of both parties or immediately after the prejudgment determination is made.

12.004 AUTHORITY OF MEDIATORS

- (1) A mediator has authority and control over the mediation process; but a mediator has no control or authority over the parties or over their decisions in the case.
- (2) Unless otherwise agreed in writing by the parties and mediator, the parties' legal counsel shall not be present at mediation sessions.
- (3) A mediator shall encourage disputing parties to obtain individual legal advice and individual legal review of any mediated agreement before signing any agreement.
- (4) A mediator shall not act as a lawyer for either party.

12.005 MEDIATION ORIENTATION

- (1) Mediation shall consist of an orientation session and a maximum of six hours of sessions involving the parties and the mediator. Additional sessions may be provided at the parties' expense.
- (2) Parties may forego orientation for good cause with the Court's approval.

12.006 ASSIGNMENT TO MEDIATOR

- (1) The parties may select a mediator of their own choosing, but if the mediator is not on the list of mediators approved by the court, the expense of the mediator shall be the responsibility of the parties.
- (2) The parties shall choose a mediator at orientation or within fourteen (14) days of the orientation if a party requests additional time. The parties shall notify the Court of the mediator selected, and the Court shall appoint the mediator and notify the parties of the appointment.
- (3) If the parties do not choose a mediator within fourteen (14) days of orientation, the mediation clerk shall select one or more mediators from the Court's panel of mediators and shall send their names to legal counsel for the parties, or to a party directly if not represented, with a request that each party notify the court within five (5) days if they object to a mediator, and state their basis. If good cause is established, the court will select another mediator.

12.007 SCHEDULING OF MEDIATION SESSIONS

Upon receipt of a mediation assignment, a mediator immediately shall notify the parties of a date and time for the initial mediation session which shall occur in the mediator's office, unless otherwise agreed upon between the mediator and the parties. The initial mediation session should occur within twenty-one (21) days of notice of the assignment to the mediator.

12.008 MEDIATION COMPLETION

- (1) Mediation shall be completed in a prompt manner without undue delay of the court proceedings and in no event later than any deadline set by the judge.
- (2) It is the responsibility of the parties to see that mediation is completed without delay. Failure to do so may result in a dismissal of the case or postponement under such conditions as the Court may require.
- (3) The mediator may notify the Court at any time following the initial mediation session that mediation has been unsuccessful; the case then will proceed to trial. The mediator may determine that the mediation has been unsuccessful if the parents are unable to resolve the custody or parenting plan controversy, if one or both parents are unwilling to participate in mediation, or if the mediator determines that either parent is using the mediation process in bad faith for delay or for other reasons.
- (4) At any point during the mediation the Court may approve a parenting plan order reflecting the parents' agreement as to the issues.

12.009 MEDIATOR QUALIFICATIONS

To Qualify as a Court-approved mediator, a person must:

- (1) Meet the requirements of OAR 718-30-000 through 100;
- (2) Sign and file an application with the Court; and
- (3) Be approved by the Presiding Judge.

NOTE: The privacy of records and confidentiality of communications in mediation are governed by ORS 107.785.

Because each family's circumstances are different, the court may make provisions for more or less parenting time than provided for in the Standard Parenting Plan. The best interest of the child(ren) is the paramount consideration.
